Scallops at Mozart Stub'n

After trying it for the first time in some dingy restaurant over the 101 Freeway in Los Angeles last year, I fell madly in love with Peruvian food, and was absolutely heartbroken when I couldn't find any Peruvian places back here. Thankfully, the wonderful Tiffin is hosting a Peruvian Gastronomic Festival and a lunch buffet will be available for $285 per person from Jul those with a slightly lower spice tolerance will have a field day with their sweeter pineapple or lychee Pheanang curries. Thai Lemongrass, 3/F, California Tower, 30-32 D'Aguilar St., Central, 2905-1688.

I don't usually hang around Hung Hom but I had the opportunity to try the somewhat-newish Bistro on the Bund last week and had a really good and well-fed time. The "international kitchen" has a diverse array of dishes, including a US ribeye steak served with a truly fantastic maitre d'hotel butter, and fragrant and flavorful Thai-style fried king prawns with chili paste. And as if that weren't enough already, the restaurant also has a Hong Kong-style hotpot buffet. Bistro on the Bund, G/F, Harbourfront Horizon, 8 Hung Luen Rd., Hung Hom, 2269-7828.
